

(EN) What is the software available in the UV? - Software

What software is available?

The list of available software is published in the Software Catalog of the Universitat de València. Please note that students and students do not have access to all the software, either due to licensing restrictions or due to technical restrictions. Likewise, there is certain software accessible only to certain Centers and / or degrees. Therefore, the software catalog is different depending on the user that accesses it. In the last column of the catalog there is an indication of the software that is also available to students and students. In the same way, the possible restriction to technological campus appears, which indicates the impossibility of accessing this software from centers or degrees not linked to studies considered as technological, basically located in the Burjassot / Paterna campus. Note that some software may have additional restrictions per center or titration not visible in this column.
