(EN) Modality 1: Loose subjects and automatic distribution

Groups: Independent selection by subject.
Subgroups: Automatic assignment.

The registration process in this modality is the following:

- Choose the set of subjects of the course you want to enroll and click on register.
- For each subject, groups will appear where there are available places.
- You must choose a group for each subject.
- It is possible that you have chosen a group and at the time of confirming, another student would have chosen the last place of it. A message will appear indicating the subject(s) in which you could not enroll.
- You can delete the enrolled subjects that you want and re-enroll them in other groups that have places.
